HENRY QUESTIONS BUSY SEASON FOR VERACITY OF GLASS ICE HARVESTERS

Widening of Legislative Breach First Cold Spell of Winter Re-Evidenced in Statement of Texas Representative.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Cease whining against me and admit your total overthrow in the Democratic caucus.

"You started out to make a bill for the great bankers and exclude farmers and average citizens. We caught you and the combination of Parker Willis and the Wall Street Journal of Commerce with the goods on, and in the caucus and Senate broke your compact with the great bankers."

Mr. Henry quoted from the original draft of the currency law to show that if provided that Federal reserve banks be permitted to purchase bonds of foreign governments. He called this bill a "star-spangled absurdity." About that time, says Mr. Henry, Mexico had $50,000,000 of her bonds floating around the New York market.

"Perhaps that accounts for some of the milk in the cocoanut that Mr. Glass was consuming. He was willing for Mexico and other foreign countries to be afforded an easy way to dispose of their bonds by his bill, but he had no such sympathy for States, counties and municipalities in the United States."

NEW TURN IN MURDER CASE.

Brother-in-Law of William Frazier Indicted as Accessory.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., January 18.—A new turn has been given to the Frazier murder in Greene County. Frank Frazier, a brother-in-law of the dead man, has been indicted by the grand jury as accessory. Ten days ago, in a quarrel over a card game, Grover Breeden shot and killed William Frazier, a hunchback, the load from the shotgun tearing a frightful hole in Frazier's side and abdomen. Breeden took to the mountains, but was captured in a few hours It is believed that the dead man was robbed of a large sum of money.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, January 18.—Widening of the legislative breach between Representative Henry, House Rules Committee, and Chairman Glass, House Banking and Currency Committee, was evidenced yesterday in a statement by Representative Henry, questioning the veracity of Mr. Glass.

Mr. Henry declared that Mr. Glass was "hooked up with Wall Street" when he wrote his first draft of the currency bill, and that it took the Democratic caucus and high "Democratic officials" to force Glass to recede from his Wall Street concessions.

The controversy between Henry and Glass on money legislation has existed since Mr. Glass opposed Mr. Henry in an attempt to reopen hearings on the money trust. It became bitter with Glass's refusal to consider the Henry aggricultural amendments to the currency bill.

"Ah! Carter," mocks Henry, "you ought to be ashamed to look the honest farmers of your State in the face. Cease whining against me and admit your total overthrow in the Democratic caucus.

The roads in Buckingham and Cumberland Counties continue to be excellent—far better than is usual at this time of the year, and, indeed, better than summer roads, owing to the absence of dust, and the smoothest kind of a surface. There has been much freezing, but little thawing as yet.

A large quantity of tobacco is being shipped from Bremo Bluff to Richmond. This was grown in Buckingham and Cumberland Counties. The tobaccomarket at Dillwyn has had a most successful year up to this time, and prices continue satisfactory. It is thought that 2,000,000 pounds of tobaccowill be sold on the Dillwyn warehouse floors this season.

Farmers are already preparing their plant beds for next year's tobacco crop. Some old farms that have not been raising tobacco for several yoars will go back to tobacco on some of the best wheat and grass lots. It is thought that prices will be better next year as a result of the recent agitation of the matter on the part of the government and the farmers' unions. Seed corn growing in this section of the James River Valley has interfered much with tobacco raising. Hay is also being raised in increasing quantities.

Owners of apple orchards report great growth of recently planted orchards, with little or no plant disease. One orchardist, who last year planted an orchard of 1,000 two-year-old trees, has discovered that of the 1,000 trees only two have died. This orchard, with others planted this year, have used the dynamite method of planting, Landowners and real estate agents are predicting that shortly Buckingham County, with its rich but cheap lands, will soon rank as one of the foremost apple-producing sections of the State.

Lumber milliers report a great demand for all kinds of lumber, especially for dead chestnut, which is to be found in such great quantities in sections of Buckingham County, especially in Slate River and upper James River districts, which were afflicted with the chestnut blight about ten years ago. The newer chestnut disease, so far as is known has not made its way ac in many of the Southern States under which a large body of the colored citizens are deprived of a vote. His declaration that there shall be no conflict with State election laws is assurance that no attempt will be made to repeal or modify these laws in connection with the country-wide expression of presidential priference.

Suffragists leaders have urged that the presidential preference primary law shall abandon the use of the term, "male citizen" qualified to vote, and provide the broader term of citizens qualified to vote. Mr. Rucker insists that this is unnecessary.

Southern Democrats are opposed in most instances to female suffrage. The movement is stronger in the West and Middle West. The House Rules Democratic committeemen refused yesterday to give the suffragists a special House committee to consider their claims. For this reason, even a qualified recognition of the suffrage movement with be excluded from the presidential primary bill.
